hi.Tell me about Indian penal code.

The Indian Penal Code is a comprehensive code intended to cover all substantive aspects of criminal law in India. It was enacted as Act No. 45 of 1860 on 6th October, 1860. The code provides a general penal code for India and extends to the whole of India except the State of Jammu and Kashmir.

The code specifies the punishment for offences committed within India and also for offences committed beyond, but which by law may be tried within, India. It also extends to extra-territorial offences committed by any citizen of India in any place without and beyond India, any person on any ship or aircraft registered in India wherever it may be, and any person in any place without and beyond India committing offence targeting a computer resource located in India.

The code also includes general explanations and definitions to be understood subject to exceptions. For example, it defines terms like "man", "woman", "person", "public", and "Servant of Government".

tell me about the term servant of Government

The term "Servant of Government" denotes any officer or servant who is appointed or employed in India by or under the authority of the Government.

Tell me about act no 45

The context provided does not give specific information about Act No. 45. However, it does mention the Air Force Act, 1950 (45 of 1950), which could potentially be the Act No. 45 you're referring to. This act would pertain to regulations and discipline within the Air Force. For more detailed information, you would need to refer to the full text of the Air Force Act, 1950.
